National Education Week is November 6-12 and is marked this year with the theme "Education Adds Up."

On Thursday, November 10 at 5:45 on Boone's local radio station, KWBG, National Education Week will be observed. Mrs. Robert Atherton, representative of the Boone city P.T.A., Clair Abbott, Dean of Students at Boone Junior College, Mr. Charles Schaeffer, speech instructor at Boone Junior College and Ray Martin, President of Boone Junior College's Student Senate will be participants. They will discuss: (1) What is the concept of the junior college in the Vocational-technical community college concept? (2) Adult evening courses - are they part of the concept? (3) What about the changing curriculum such as music and physical education? (4) What changes will there be in the Student Senate and activities they sponsor such as basketball and upcoming cultural programs?

Don't forget to have your radio on to Dial Spot 1590 at 5:45 on Thursday, November 10.

No one enters these "Hallowed Ivy Walls" without being introduced to Mrs. William Hartley through one of her classes, American History, American Government, Western Civilization, or Contemporary Affairs.

Many of the students here at Boone Junior College are having her on their second round, as she came here from Boone High School where she was known as Miss Marguerite Skilling. From this, we gather she has been teaching for the "last 100 year."

Miss Skilling was raised and received her early education in and around Algona. She received her B.A. in history from the State College of Iowa at Cedar Falls when the college still was known as the State Teachers College. Her M.A. degree was obtained from the University of Minnesota in History and Political Science. She has done graduate work at the University of Minnesota, University of Iowa, University of Missouri, Drake University, and also at Iowa State University in Ames.

The change in her "status quo" occurred on August 11, 1954, when she was united in marriage to Mr. William Hartley. Shortly after their new home was built on S.E. Linn they purchased a window air-conditioner. Many students in need of "Brownie Points", put this air conditioner in at springtime and take it out in the fall. (Those of you who need them at this point - remember - snow will be falling soon!)

Mr. and Mrs. Hartley are both anticipating the new Junior College building, not only for the closeness and their convenience but for the fun it will bring to them since Mr. Hartley will be purchasing a new Golf Mobile this next summer. It will save them quite a little as Mrs. Hartley will be able to store her business car and ride to and from J.C. on the golf cart.

Mrs. Hartley is an active member of Delta Kappa Gamma, an International Society of woman teachers and is a past president of the local chapter. She has also worked in the Iowa Council of Social Studies and on the National Council of Social Studies. She has held offices and appointments in both of these levels. Among them was a tour of duty spent on the Advisory Board of Social Education, a publication of the National Council, and as editor for the Iowa Councelor, for approximately seven years.

Mrs. Hartley enjoys Boone Junior College and because of this, takes on the responsibility of supervising the Spring - Dinner - Dance. She deems it a great privilege to work with the Sophomores during graduation time since it is their last formal contact with Boone Junior College.

Open House was held Wednesday, October 26, and although the turnout was far below last year, all those who attended agreed that it was a very worthwhile effort to bring parent, teacher and student closer together.

An interesting sideline on Open House is that Mrs. Frances Gallup revisited the classrooms which she taught in 52 years ago. She taught in Room 101 and was primary teacher in the junior college building for 3 1/2 years. The principal of the building while she was teaching was Miss Figley and superintendent of schools was Mr. Merridith.

Delta Tau members will attend the Southwest Region Student ISEA 1966 Fall Regional Meeting on Monday, November 14 at the Memorial Student Center of Graceland College in Lamoni. The theme of this meeting is "Challenge of Change."

All members who want to go to Lamoni but haven't signed up yet, should do so at once.

Boone Junior College's annual Blue and White Ball will be held November 11, 1966 at the Country Club from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. This is the junior college's most important social event of the fall season and is highlighted with the coronation of Mr. and Miss B.J.C. at 9:30 p.m. The orchestra for the evening is "The Gentlemen" and tickets are $.50.

Committee chairmen for the ball include: Publicity; Denny Vaudt; Advance sale of tickets, Laura Richeson; Decorations, Lynn Coughlin; Coronation Ceremony, Sue Tingwald; Balloting, Dave Howell. Advance sale of tickets began Monday, October 31.

Balloting for Mr. BJC and Miss BJC was Tuesday November 8, 1966. The three boys and three girls receiving the most votes will be the final candidates for the title. All boys and girls who are beginning their third semester at Boone Junior College are eligible for the title of Mr. and Miss BJC.

Chorus

The Boone Junior College chorus under the direction of Mr. Oswald Bertanoli, has a membership of 32 this year. Although he feels a membership of 60 is about right, Mr. Bertanoli thinks the most important factor is having a balance of voices. The chorus will give two concerts during the year, one at Christmas and one in the spring. They will attend a festival for junior colleges at Marshalltown on March 18, 1967.

Aside from chorus, Mr. Bertanoli gives solo lessons to 16 persons, has three small groups, a mixed quartet, a girls trio and a girls quartet and also teaches a music theory class.

Faculty advisors for the ball are Mrs. Glenny Tays, Chairman, Mr. Everett Porter and Mr. Richard Tays.

Delta Tau, under the leadership of Mrs. Barquist, has offered to purchase a new crown for the coronation ceremony.

Notice

Tryouts to choose cheerleaders will be November 8, 1966 at 7:30 at the junior college. Four regulars and two alternates will be chosen at that time. New uniforms will be ordered after tryouts are completed.

Mt. Condemnedus

Article number 3

Now that the Blue and White Ball is only a week away, don't you stragglers think it's about time you got a date? Publius is all lined up. The tickets are low priced so there should be no one excusing himself on this account. I expect to see everyone there.

I would like to commend the students thus far for the way they are taking care of their snack bar and recreation room. At this time last year, I think we had about two chairs in useable condition.

Had any midterms lately? Some teachers like to give those nice little quizzes to find out what you have or haven't learned. If you are thinking of taking things easy for a while, don't forget that Progress Reports come out today. If you are out of town students and are quick enough, you might make it home in time to intercept these reports. These Progress Reports should really be called Lack-of-Progress Reports.

Mt. Condemnedus has never been so colorful as last Monday when somebody left pink, blue, and yellow decorations in the trees around the main building. The patterns were quite artistic. They were so good that there was a consultant in from Teepee Art Works Incorporated to talk to the artist, but she hasn't been apprehended yet.

Now that the new paving is in I suppose we will have art work of another form. See you all at the Blue and White Ball.

Publius

A LITTLE LEARNING ISN'T ENOUGH

What is it worth to a young person to receive a college education?

There's no determining all the values precisely, of course, but if you're interested in dollars and cents, the United States Department of Labor has come up with these figures:

In his lifetime the average college graduate will earn $435,242.

The average lifetime earnings of the person whose formal education ends with high school are $257,557.

That's a difference of $177,685. Assuming 43 income-producing years from college graduation to retirement it's a difference of better than $4,000 a year.

And school has started again.

Don't forget to support the team throughout the season!!!

It's a wonderful generation to belong to. Everything that's wrong is the fault of the generation ahead of us and is going to have to be corrected by the one after us.

Girls have an unfair advantage over men: if they can't get what they want by being smart, they can get it by being dumb.
